In a fight for the balance of power, can Jae Hwa regain all she lost and save Korea, the land she has come to call home?

Professional Reviews:

"An amazing contemporary fantasy that explores the vast legends of Korea, this richly detailed novel kept me turning the pages well into the night. Jae Hwa starts off as a strong character and ends as a noble one, using both her brains and her brawn to win the day—she's exactly the kind of girl YA literature needs." ~from Beth Revis, NY Times Bestselling author of Across the Universe series

"Farley brings South Korea's fascinating culture and mythology into vivid detail in this shining debut, and Jae is a compelling heroine. An exotic, thrilling read, GILDED had me utterly entranced!" ~from Jessica Khoury, author of ORIGIN and VITRO

"The Korean setting and myths make for an interesting backdrop" ~School Library Journal (GILDED)

"Offering enough backstory for new readers to jump right in, Silvern will do well in libraries with demand for high fantasy and strong female protagonists, especially those of Asian decent. Additionally, a small side plot involving a visit to North Korea may interest those who would like to learn more about this closed-off country.

Recommended." ~School Library Journal (SILVERN)

"Energy, adventure, and ancient Korean legends whisk the reader away to lands real and spirit bound." —Booklist Online
